

Invitation Letter for the 17th Asian Textile Conference

Dear Respected Experts, Professors, and PhDs,

Greetings!

On behalf of the ATC-17 Conference committee, we are honored and delighted to extend our heartfelt invitation to you to participate in the 17th Asian Textile Conference (ATC-17), which will be held from December 17th to 19th, 2024, at Feng Chia University, Taiwan. This prestigious event, organized by Feng Chia University and The 17th Asian Textile Conference committee, will bring together experts, scholars, researchers, and industry leaders from around the world in the fields of fiber, textiles, and related areas to share and exchange the latest research findings, industry trends, and challenges in textile technology.

The theme of this year's conference is "Innovation, Sustainability, and Smart Textiles." The aim is to foster technological innovation, sustainable development, and intelligent transformation in the textile industry across Asia and globally. We recognize that the textile industry is entering a period of significant transformation, with advancements in technology, material innovations, manufacturing upgrades, and the push for a green economy, all of which will greatly alter the development trajectory of the industry. ATC-17 will serve as a vital platform for academia and industry to come together, share cutting-edge research, and explore the future directions of the field.

We sincerely extend this invitation to you once again, and we look forward to seeing you at Feng Chia University in Taiwan from December 17th to 19th, 2024, to explore the future and challenges of the textile industry.

Sincerely,

The 17th Asian Textile Conference Organizing Committee

Federation of Textile Academic Partnerships in Asia (FTAPA)

Conference Website: <https://atc17.tw/>

